CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Wheat for May de- llyery sold here today at $1.13 per bush- el, the highest point touched since the famous Gates deal in 1995. All of the ad- vance was held and the market closed strong at the top at net gains for the day of $6% to $c. Prodded on by additional purchases by leading bulls, numerous small shorts were active hidders for May wheat throughout the entire day, but offerings were light owing to the congested con- dition of the market, and consequently the total volume of business was not large. The market opened amid con- siderable builish enthusiasm, with the May delivery &c to &c higher at the high than the highest point of the previous session, which was also the record mark for the season, initial quotations on May being $1.12 to $1.122. The opening builge was due largely to an advance of $24 to id at Liverpool. The more distant de- liveries also opened at moderate ad- vances. With the exception of the Sep- tember delivery, prices during the day did not fail below the opening ievel, demand being sufficiently brisk to absorb all of- ferings at first prices. The bulls were aided in their compaign by the continu- ance of an unusually lively demand by millers for cash wheat in this country. A fresh burst of buillish enthusissm in the final hour carried May up to $1.13, where it rested at the close. July sold between $1.002 and $1.014, and closed at $1.014 at $1.014. Bradstreet's Review. DRUGGISTS NEW YORK, Feb. 11 .- Bradstreet's this 271 Main— East side— not on the corner.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Bradstreet's this week will say:
Unsettlied, stormy weather has accentuated the quiet prevailing in general trade and the cliuation as a whole is rather irregular. The first of the spring season's buyers' excursions are, however, attracting merchants to the leading markets east and west and while conservatism claracterizes dealings, the feeling is still one of optimism as to the future. In the industries, operations as a whole are still below the normal.

Best reports forme from the textile trades, particularly cotion and woolen dress goods lines. The metal and conformates are rather complicates for the duliness of demand and the continuance in the former industry of output at a reduced rate. Reports as to colections reduced for the firegularities due to weather or the reduced purchasing power of the country and are still only shout fair.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending February 10 were 211 against 286 lists week, 326 in the like week of 1905, 204 in 1907, 208 in 1906 and 243 in 1905.

Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week (five days) ending February 10 asgregate 2,670,755 businels, against 1850,756 last week and 4,037,650 this week and 1,678,671 in 1908. For the weeks ending February 10 this year, the exports are 132,924,524 businels, against 148,681,531 in the corresponding period last year.

Corn exports for the week and 1,678,671 in 1908. For the thirty-threes weeks ending February 10, corn exports are 18,032,669 against 18,592,043 last year.

Trading continued rather weak on the produce market Thursday, although it was considerably better than on any previous day this week. Fricas continued steady, nevertheless, and dealers are apparently not going to reduce the product is norder to sell them.

Fish is becoming somewhat more plentiful again and the dealers are sincerely hoping that the demand will increase in proportion to the supply. The only news of interest was the issuance by the National Ginners' association of a statement showing the amount ginned up to February 6 at 12,814,600 baies. This, if correct would confine the crop to less than 13,100,000 bales, or about 1,600,000 larger than last year, and it is well to remember that last year's crop was in adequate to the demands by the world of 2,340,000 bales, according to the census bureau department. The cotton market, although persistent efforts have been made in an aggressive way to hammer it, acts very well in the abesnee of any support. The buying power in the matket is lodged about ten points under today's close, and the public rather indifferent about momentary fluctuations. A turn bowever, to a much better market will follow any improvement in the spot situation, which at the moment is a resting one.
